INTEGRATION CASE STUDY: Aquinas College

The BambooHR integration with Maxwell Health marries best-in-class HR technology with the ever-important benefits piece of the puzzle, saving you time through automation and letting HR focus on what matters most: your people! The integration provides an awesome benefits enrollment experience and simplifies administrative tasks, taking your benefits paperless and making it easy to keep employee data up-to-date and accurate in both systems.

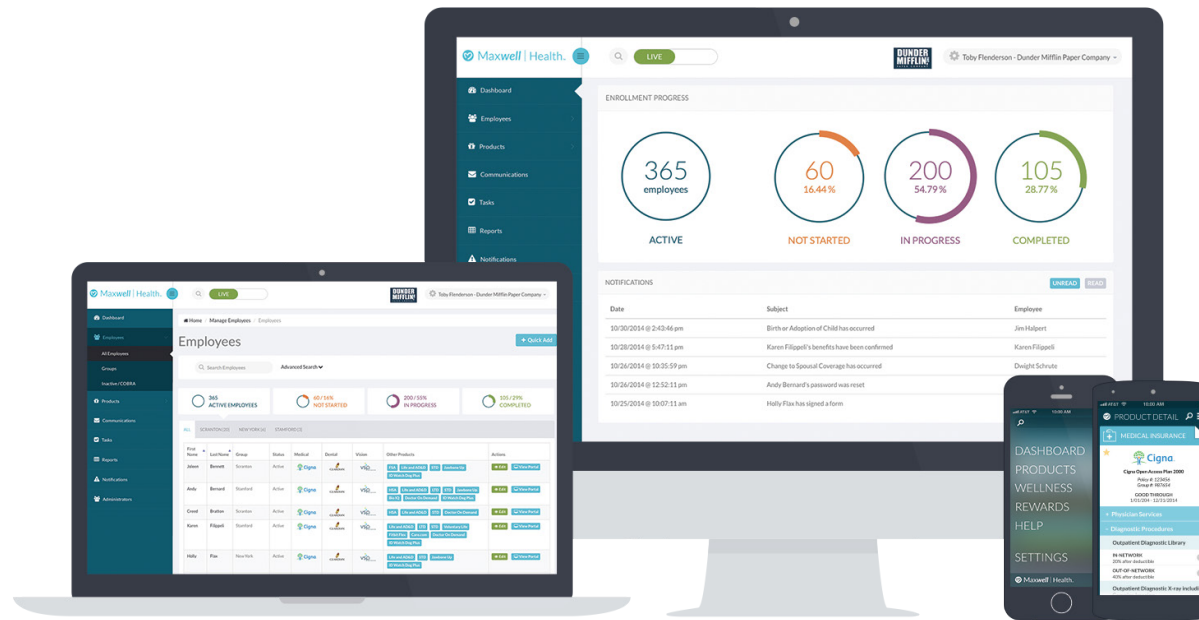

THE PROBLEM

When Aquinas College split off operationally from two other schools on their campus, their HR Coordinator, Jennifer Laster, was tasked with overhauling their current benefits and HR processes, which were highly manual. Having previously handled benefits and other HR-related questions from all 75 employees, Jennifer wanted to go totally paperless. She hoped to provide a solution that employees would enjoy using to onboard, enroll in, and manage their benefits.

Aquinas College offers a dynamic four-year academic experience in a welcoming and supportive Catholic environment. Guided by their outstanding faculty and the Dominican Sisters of St. Cecilia Congregation, students can choose from programs in liberal arts, business, nursing, and teacher education on their beautiful 83-acre campus in Nashville, Tennessee. Their aim is to offer a big-world vision in a small community culture.

THE SOLUTION

Jennifer discovered BambooHR in her search for a user-friendly solution that makes handling HR tasks simpler and faster. Because of the integration BambooHR has with Maxwell Health, Jennifer was also able to modernize their benefits processes and move to a cloud-based HR system. Now whenever Jennifer adds a new hire in BambooHR, that person is automatically added to Maxwell Health and is able to kick off their benefits enrollment process. Jennifer no longer needs to worry about dual entry or keeping disparate paperwork in order, and when open enrollment rolls around, she sends over what changes are needed and everything is taken care of by Maxwell and BambooHR. This solution provides Aquinas College's employees with a convenient self-service solution for all their employment and benefits information needs.

TESTIMONIAL

“Using the BambooHR and Maxwell integration is easy and so much faster for me; all my employees’ information is entered in one place and shows up in both systems. I don’t have to hound people asking them to turn in their benefits forms, and when they have a question about what’s included, they can find all that information themselves.”
